Greetings!

Holiday Tours

It's April... flowers are budding, the grass is returning to a healthy shade of green rather than dull brown, and thoughts are drifting to Christmas...

Say what? Yup – now is a great time to plan for your Holiday Tour to Lancaster County!

No turkey snoozing allowed after Thanksgiving! Pack a motorcoach with a bunch of ladies and start shopping at Rockvale Outlets at midnight on Black Friday. See special offer at right.

Cheer your group on in a Gingerbread decorating contest (and eat the results) at Hershey Farm Restaurant.

Enjoy breathtaking Christmas displays and the sounds of the season on the newly restored 10,010-pipe organ during A Longwood Gardens Christmas.

Enjoy an Amish Christmas feast and compare the differences in Amish and “English” traditions with Amish Foods & Celebrations at Bird-in-Hand Family Restaurant.

Don't have time to plan the details? Let one of our Tour Service Companies do the legwork for you, making your Holiday Tour planning a breeze.

Sing along at one of the many holiday shows in our theatres! Holly Jolly Christmas, The 2009 Christmas Show, Amish Family Christmas, Miracle of Christmas, The Allenberry Christmas Show, or Peace, Love and My Mother-in-Law.

The National Christmas Center is open year-round, but no trip to Lancaster County during the Holidays is complete without a visit here. See amazing, life-sized indoor exhibits celebrating the history and traditions of the holiday. Can't wait till December? Come to their Christmas in July event.

And the award goes to...
